ABOARD THE U. S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(By Wireless to the United Press.)—President Wilson has given no indication of his views concerning disposition of the former Kaiser, but he is expected to be consulted by international law experts in this regard. In view of the fact that British officials favor placing Wilhelm on trial the President's attitude may be most important.

The President Sunday held his first conference with his advisers, Secretary Lansing, and Ambassador Wilson. The latter, who had been in the White House since his return from Europe, was the only one of the cabinet members who was not present.

President Calls on All To Assist Red Cross

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—President Wilson, in a proclamation, calls on every American to join the American Red Cross during Christmas roll call week, December 16 to 23, "and thus send forth to the whole human family the Christmas greeting for which it waits and for which it stands in greatest need." The proclamation, prepared before the President departed for Europe, follows:

To the American People: One year ago twenty-two million Americans, by enrollment as members of the Red Cross at Christmas time, sent to the men who were fighting our battles overseas a stimulating message of cheer and good will. They made it clear that our people were of their own free choice united with their government in the determination not only to win the instruments of peace, but also by every means in their power to repay the ravages of the invader and sustain and renew the spirit of the army and of the home which they represented. The friends of the American Red Cross in Italy, Belgium and France have not only kept the memory of the Christmas message of cheer and good will, but they have also by their heroic deeds and their heroic sacrifices, we must prove conclusively to an attentive world that America is permanently aroused to the needs of the new era, our old indifference gone forever.

The exact nature of the future service of the Red Cross will depend upon the program of the associated governments, but there is immediate need today for every heartening word and every helpful service. We must not forget that our soldiers and our sailors are still under orders and still have duties to perform of the highest consequence, and that the Red Cross Christmas membership means a great deal to them. The people of the saddened lands, moreover, returning home today, where there are no homes must have the assurance that the hearts of our people are with them in the dark and doubtful days ahead. Let us, so far as we can, help them back to faith in mercy and in future happiness.

SEND FORTH GREAT CHRISTMAS MESSAGE
As president of the Red Cross, I should be glad if every American would join the Red Cross for 1918, and thus send forth to the whole human family the Christmas greeting for which it waits and for which it stands in greatest need.

FICKERT PLANS INDICTMENT OF 'REDS' SLEUTHS'

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Charges that a great portion of the transcript of alleged telephone conversations embodied in the report of John B. Densmore to Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson had been obtained through the cooperation and assistance of certain members of the International Workers' Defense League were made by District Attorney Charles M. Fickert today.

District Attorney Fickert names the following as members of the defense league as being among the telephone operators: Selig Schuler, John Brennan and Mrs. Frederick E. Edmond, was indicted in connection with the Sacramento I. W. case and is on trial there today.

OTHER TELEPHONE
It was also stated by Fickert that at least a dozen other telephones had been tapped in this investigation, the identity of whose owners has not as yet been made public. According to the district attorney many of them are still the subject of espionage by the defense league. There are said to have been four stations in all, among them, those of the Clunie Building, Montgomery and California, and another in the Foxcroft, 63 Post street, in which building Attorney Nathan A. Tamm is practicing law.

A full exposure of the activities of the defense league in connection with the Densmore report are promised by the district attorney. Fickert, in the McGarrity grand jury, which is to investigate alleged corruption, bribery and malfeasance in the part of certain city and county officials and others prominent in the vicinity of the Hall of Justice.

FICKERT AIMS TO INDICT DENSMORE
In closing his statement today District Attorney Fickert was asked if the charges he made had been the result of counter-investigations or information. He said: "I know definitely that John B. Densmore does not dare to come back and face this grand jury. I ordered the counter-investigation of the report as a whole and of certain portions of it to ascertain if certain allegations had their basis in fact, or were the figment of some party at the royal palace. Fickert said that he will ask for indictments against all those involved in obtaining the dictagraph record. Previously he announced that he would ask for an indictment against Densmore and his assistants and the same section of the penal code will be invoked to obtain indictments against the members of the defense league. By this section wire-tapping is made a felony.

Fifteen Jailed in Big Raid on "Bartenders" Club; Capt. Brown Charges Efforts to Warn Players Before Hand

Head of Neutrality Bureau Asserts This Is First Time in Ten Years Jack Wooley's Places Were Not Protected

Investigation of "tips" emanating from the police department of raids directed by the Neutrality Bureau are in progress today, following the raid early yesterday morning on the "Bartenders' Club," on Twelfth street, in which fifteen men were taken into custody on gambling and blind pig charges.

The raid, conducted by Captain Thorvald Brown of the Neutrality Bureau, is the first one in ten years to be successful on a project conceived by Jack Wooley, local saloonman, and according to Captain Brown, head of several gambling "clubs" in Oakland.

"This time we are going to get Wooley," said Brown today. "We have the government behind us. Furthermore, we are going to clean up gambling joints in the downtown district and West Oakland, and settle before the year is over on the whole. There's no joke about it this time, and Uncle Sam's men are to help."

MORSE WILL BACK BROWN, HE ASSERTS
Commissioner F. P. Morse today said he would back Brown to the limit in his drive on gambling clubs.

The "leak" feature is charged by Brown. When he and his operatives returned at an early hour this morning, he found Wooley waiting at the central police station, he says, "tipped off" from inside the hall that the raid was coming, and he was with him $1080, which totalled the bail necessary to free the men arrested.

This is the third time "tips" of raids have been leaked from the city hall, said Ben Jones, secretary to Commissioner Morse. "The only difference is that before the year is over, we are going to get Wooley's places several times and the raids were always tipped off."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The drowning of Ensign William E. Ensign, of the U. S. S. Albatross, and six enlisted men of the destroyer Lamsdale when a boat carrying a shore liberty party swamped in Tangier harbor, was reported to the navy department today by Vice-Admiral Sims.

Belgians Are Bitter Over Holland's Acts
PARIS, Dec. 9.—There is much feeling against Holland in Belgium because of the attitude of the Dutch government in permitting German soldiers to pass through the Dutch province of Limburg, according to a despatch from Brussels. The Belgians are said to be indignant that Belgian automobiles interned in Holland were used by the Dutch authorities in carrying the former German crown prince and his suite when he fled to Holland.

Irish Independence Is Urged by Priests
BOSTON, Dec. 9.—Advocates of Irish independence have today resolutions seeking to have the peace conference insist upon "self-determination" for Ireland.

Signed by Cardinal O'Connell and virtually every clergyman in the archdiocese one set of resolutions asks that "the claims of Ireland to be a free and independent nation in the fellowship of nations shall be acknowledged by the United States" and that "Ireland may stand in equal condition with Poland, Serbia and Belgium at the peace conference."

Enthusiastic Fighter Tells How Americans Saved the Day in Champagne When Hun Fire Got Too Hot for the Poilus

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Amid the din of whistles from harbor craft, the transport Sierra docked here today with thirty-five wounded American officers and 1531 wounded men. The injuries of most of the men were recorded as slight and many lined the rails, cheering and waving. As the vessel went into her berth, there was a large gathering of American army and navy officers and Red Cross workers at the pier to welcome the veterans.

The transport Sierra, which reported by wireless last night, will dock during the morning. She has 35 officers and 1531 men on board.

The Empress of Britain is expected this afternoon with 76 officers and 2339 men, and the Adriatic may come in before night with nearly 2400 troops. Many aboard the Empress are hospital cases.

MANY OTHER SHIPS DUE AT ANY TIME.

Ebert Endeavors to Put Down Rioting in Capital By Spartacus Followers

PARIS, Dec. 9.—Chancellor Ebert's government is bringing new troops into Berlin, in an effort to crush the Spartacus movement, which has now spread throughout the northern suburbs, according to a Zurich despatch to L'Information today.

Pillaging continues, the despatch says, especially in the populous quarters. One confused despatch received here from Berlin declares Karl Liebknecht followers have organized a revolution throughout Germany. The reichstag building in Berlin is reported to have been taken and the trouble appears to have spread to Munich and Pilsen. Bloody riots continue in Berlin.

Another message says that allied intervention in Prussia may save the government.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—(Delayed).—Twenty-eight persons were killed and forty-eight wounded in street fighting here yesterday between government troops and forces of the Spartacus group, which the latter were completely defeated.

The Spartacists, under Karl Liebknecht, planned a coup d'etat in which the police station and chancellor's palace were to be seized and the government elected. Appeals were made to the workmen to call a general strike. Many of them responded and marched into the streets of the royal palace.

Spartacists placed machine guns before the Reichstag building. Liebknecht addressed the crowds from the roof of a motor bus, and the workmen shouted: "Long live the international republic!"

The mobs were finally incited to attack the police buildings, but were defeated after a sharp encounter in which machine guns were used on both sides.

REPUBLICAN GUARD PUT UNDER ARMS
COPENHAGEN, Dec. 9.—Ten thousand members of the Republican guard were declared in an interview with the Berlin correspondent of a London newspaper that Germany will have six delegates at the national assembly, which they will be backed by the national assembly.

"A council of six persons will be selected as peace delegates," Scheldemann said. "They will call upon the national assembly to guarantee Germany's good faith to the allies."

OCCUPATION IS NOT MARRED BY ANY ACT

Roundup of High German Officials Is Begun With Arrest of Gen. Von Tisma, Ex-Governor of Luxembourg

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Dec. 9.—A sensation has been caused by the arrest of General von Tisma and while the reasons were not disclosed, it was said that this is but the beginning of a roundup of high German officials including the ex-kaiser and a special train prince was due to arrive in Coblenz at noon, Sunday.

General von Tisma was turned over to the French army and imprisoned at Metz.

Persecution of German occupation officials has been announced by the greater part of the time, ruling with a stern hand. According to reports, he ordered the execution of 112 civilians at Arlon, Belgium, in the early days of the war.

It is said that the charges against the German officer are grave.

WITH THE AMERICANS IN PRUSSIA, Dec. 9.—American troops are in Coblenz.

The detachment sent to Coblenz was the Second Battalion of the 39th Infantry, Fourth Division, comprising about a thousand men.

The remainder of the Third Army will come up as planned. The Second Battalion will occupy a martial law in Coblenz and guard public utilities.

The main force has reached the line of Ruppertsberg, Boppard, Mayen, Gremmelsberg, Simmern and Kellenbach.

In view of the revolutionary conditions, the Americans plan to deal with whatever party is in power. In only three towns have they found a workmen's and soldiers' council as the defacto government. They dealt with them the same as they have with the burghmaster and military commander who asked that Americans enter Coblenz immediately after the departure of the German troops. No disorder was reported in that city, but the German officials declared that they wished to take no chances and wanted the Americans to arrive on the heels of German soldiers who began evacuating Friday evening.

HUN SECRETS ARE LAID BARE BEFORE SENATE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASSED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The Senate committee today resumed its investigation of German propaganda with further exposures expected from A. Bruce Blaisdel, Department of Justice.

"Hints that army intelligence officers may disclose some startling secrets of the schemes used by German agents to gain support and sympathy in America added a new note of interest to the hearing."

Blaisdel was expected to open more pages of the book of German secrets which had been closed to the public since the war began.

Indications today were that the probe would continue for the rest of the week and possibly longer.

Blaisdel read to the committee at length from the diary of Dr. Karl F. Fuchs, the German agent, whose activities figure prominently in the investigation. The notes of Fuchs said that on the day following the publication of private letters of K. F. Albert, he worked with Adolf at Cedarhurst, N. Y., and later discussed the incident with Samuel Untermyer.

Letters were submitted to show that the Hun Lebeau Relief Bureau was organized in New York, with branches in principal cities, to aid in influencing Germans and Austrians to give up their work in munition factories.

The bureau also took an enrollment of Germans and Austrians who had had military experience and it kept up its work until after Bernstorff departed upon the breaking of relations between the United States and Germany.

Questioned about the attitude of William Randolph Hearst, Blaisdel said: "Of all the newspapers published in the United States, those published by Hearst were the most pronounced in favor of Germany. There is no other man whose attitude was so friendly to Germany in the war."

"If this inquiry were limited to paid propagandists," he said, "we could not mention Mr. Hearst. There is no evidence that Mr. Hearst received any profits from the German government or from any one acting for it."

CRIMINALITY IN U. S. ARMY SHOWN SMALL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Not one member of America's gigantic army has been put to death since the beginning of the war for a military offense.

This is the outstanding feature of the report of the judge advocate-general of the army, the adjutant-general made public today.

It is doubtful if this record has ever been paralleled in warfare. Since the beginning of the war and up to June 30, 1918, a total of 13,357 officers and enlisted men of the United States were tried for various offenses by general court-martial. Of this number 10,753 soldiers and officers were convicted and punished in various ways, while 1484 were acquitted. Of the total number tried, 11,559 were enlisted men and 642 were officers.

A total of 257 officers were sentenced to dismissal from the army during this period, the great majority of the sentences being carried out. The total number of enlisted men dishonorably discharged from the army during this period was 2703.

The predominant charges against officers were: Absence without leave, drunkenness and conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman.

The proportionate scale of offenses charged against enlisted men during the period covered is: Disobedience, 3946 charges; desertion, 3338 charges; absence without leave, 2927 charges; larceny, 1888 charges; sexual violations, 1850 charges; assault, 834 charges, and drunkenness, 774 charges.

Many of the officers and soldiers tried had more than one offense charged against them. The majority of these offenses decreased in number as the war progressed, the report says.

NO SHORTAGE OF FUEL THIS YEAR

Loading of livestock, grain and coal in this territory is showing a marked improvement in railroad service over last year according to the report of Regional Director Hale Holden to Director General McAdoo made public here by William Sproule, District Director.

Cars of livestock loaded showed an increase of 7.2 per cent, coal 15.5 per cent, and grain cars loaded 15.9 per cent.

The outlook for the winter fuel supply is better than it has been since the fall of 1915. The country is stocked up to a greater extent than ever known before. The car supply in October was better than it has been during any sustained period since July 1916 and the mines are producing more coal than ever before in their history.

All things considered, the report says, the Railroad Administration can, in respect of fuel supply, view the future in this region with serenity, confident that there will be no lack of fuel through any failure of the transportation system.

Special arrangements for handling the fruit traffic from California and Colorado also proved successful.

During the month of October there were operated from California 116 freight specials, with 4,646 cars to the Missouri River and Chicago with an average of 39 cars per train. All fruit specials were operated on conservative schedules and filled to reasonable tonnage with dead freight.

A full car supply for oil traffic was maintained at all times. There operated out of the Mid-Continent fields a total of 556 trains, with an average of 27 cars per train, of which the Santa Fe handled 84 trains, with 2,843 cars, an average of 30 cars per train.

Missing Collier Off Navy Roll Lost Ship Mystery Still Unsolved

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Grouped with the great details of missing ships that have put to sea and never reached port, is the U. S. S. Cyclops, whose name has been stricken from the U. S. naval registry.

There has been no more baffling mystery in the annals of the navy, says Secretary Daniels, in his annual report, referring to the disappearance of the vessel.

Probably not until the sea gives up its secrets will the fate of the Cyclops be known. For months the single word "missing" was written opposite its name. During that time all the resources of the United States and the allied governments were drawn upon to find the vessel or learn her fate.

WAS MODERN SHIP.

Unlike most of the vessels that the sea has swallowed and left no trace, the Cyclops was a modern steamship of 19,000 tons, equipped with wireless and every device known to safeguard the ship and those on board. She was well officered and had a crew of 213. There were also 57 passengers. Not one has been heard from since the Cyclops steamed out of the Barbados early in March.

With a story of brilliant achievements of the American Navy in the war, Secretary Daniels couples in his annual report made public today, an urgent recommendation for continued naval expansion to meet the demands of peace for national and international work on the sea.

Through nearly all of 144 printed pages the secretary tells in brief phrases of the navy's part in the war. He speaks of the seemingly impossible through teamwork. He speaks of the mighty accomplishments of transporting two million men to France, without the loss of an enlisted man, through the enemy action, and he devotes a graphic chapter to the Marine Brigade, which, as all the world knows, blocked the last Prussian advance on Paris, and started the German retreat that ended with the war.

This reference to the future concludes the report.

END OF COMPETITION.

"The day is not far distant when the world will witness an end of competitive building between nations of mighty weapons of war in the peace treaty there will undoubtedly be incorporated President Wilson's proposal for a reduction of armament to the lowest point consistent with domestic safety."

"Navies will still be needed as an international police force to compel compliance with the decree of an international tribunal which will be set up to decide differences between nations. Naval vessels will have large peace tasks of survey and discovery and protection in addition to police duty of an international as well as of a national character.

"Inasmuch as the United States is the richest of the great nations and has suffered less in war than any of the allied powers, it will devote upon this country to make a contribution to the navy to preserve the peace of the world commensurate with its wealth, its commerce, its growing and expanding merchant marine, and its leadership in the council of free people. It is, therefore, our duty now not, indeed, to enter upon any new and ambitious naval program, but to go forward steadily upon the lines of naval increase to which the country committed itself by the adoption three years ago of the first far-reaching constructive naval program in the history of the republic."

URGES NEW PROGRAM.

"I have recommended to this Congress the adoption of another three-year program substantially like the one adopted in 1915. But the victory of the allies and the United States should and will, I sincerely trust, within a few years make it no longer necessary for any nation under which and upon which the taxpayers to undertake to build, in competitive construction, bigger fighting ships and more of them than any other nation can construct."

Daniels shows that the new $500,000,000, three-year building program has proposed will provide 156 additional naval ships, ten of them dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers, and the others to be in such distribution of approved types as the department may deem best.

Taking up his story of the navy and the war, the secretary declares the service was "ready from stem to stern" when the United States entered the conflict. From the day when the first three-year program was adopted in 1915, he adds, "Congress has given everything that could be desired to insure the effectiveness of the naval arm."

EDWARDS ASKS CITY GO SLOW

W. H. Edwards, commissioner of revenue and finance, is asking financial report to the city council, with the recommendation that no further money be spent from any department unless already provided for in the budget.

"After allowing in the budget ample money for the efficient administration of every department, the commissioner of revenue and finance placed a sum of $25,000 in the contingent or emergency appropriation, to be used during the entire year, as the need or emergency might arise. This sum was, on the final adoption of the budget, increased to $55,000."

"During the first six months of the fiscal year, the council has spent from the contingent fund the following sums: 'Public betterment'—$12,000 for East Fourteenth street paving, Eighty-third avenue to San Leandro.

"Harbor Department—$11,000.

"Entertainment Appropriation—$2,000.

"Land Show—$5,000.

"Influenza Epidemic—$13,000.

Total, $43,000. This leaves a balance of $12,000 in this fund, from which must be paid $15,000 in the water rate case, which will leave a deficit of $3,000, and nothing for future emergencies."

"The entertainment fund originally carried $50,000, which has been increased from the contingent fund to $70,000. This fund has now a deficit of $38.55, which will preclude any further appropriations for entertainment purposes for the balance of this year.

"Permit me to suggest there may be as many, if not more emergency needs in the next six months as in the past, and it would seem wise a woman expenditure of money be made in any department unless already provided for in the budget."

The report was placed on file.

reasons are assigned. One is that the people are so weary they are glad the war is over, even if it means defeat. Another is that the people are so accustomed to military discipline and the bidding of officers of it. Still another is that the people have not yet had time to grasp the lightning-like change of events, or are submitting through fear of the consequences of an outbreak.

SAY GERMANS ARE PLAYING SHREWD GAME

Some officials hold the theory that the Germans are playing a shrewd propaganda game, thus trying to gain the sympathy of Americans, which they would turn to their account after peace is signed. The latter is not regarded as likely, however, as the majority of the people make no attempt to fraternize and do not conceal the fact they are not glad about the American's presence. On the other hand, the Americans' rule so far has been extremely mild. With the exception of the requisitioning of public buildings, some coal and forage, part use of the railways and telephone lines, and the billeting of officers with civilian families, it has not affected the private life of the Germans in the slightest degree.

The policy of the Americans in charge of military affairs here is to impose military restrictions only as it is shown they are needed, but they impose, and enforce, the most stringent and drastic laws if necessary.

When the army completes its marches and takes the positions designated in the armistice, it is probable that the number of restrictions will be promulgated, which are now held in abeyance because of difficulty of enforcement while the army is on the move.

LIEBKNECHT'S AUDIENCE IS GUN-FLANKED

BERLIN, Sunday, Dec. 8 (By the Associated Press).—Eager to make members of the Spartacus party martyrs as the result of Friday's rioting, Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the leader of this faction, lost no time in staging a spectacular open-air meeting at the Thiergarten last night.

His call for the meeting brought forth four thousand munition workers who had responded to the demand for a general walkout. These men and women marched through Unter den Linden to the Thiergarten until they reached the point where the Avenue of Victory intersects the Charlottenburger Chaussee. There Dr. Liebknecht mounted the base of one of the granite statues erected in honor of the Hohenzollerns and made an address.

The semi-circle of Dr. Liebknecht's auditors was flanked on all sides by machine guns mounted on motor trucks which commanded all approaches. Dr. Liebknecht harangued the crowd in his familiar style, indicting Friedrich Ebert, the premier; Philipp Scheidemann and other "Socialists" of complicity in Friday's rioting. He called upon the masses to organize Red Guards and beat off the attacks of counter-revolutionists.

At a late hour Berlin was absolutely quiet. It is estimated by the Tageblatt that the number of deserters that Berlin is feeding exceeds sixty thousand. Premier Ebert and his cabinet held a secret session with the executive committee of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Council, discussing Friday's rioting. Over 30 mass meetings of conflicting parties were announced for today.

WOULD CHANGE NAMES ON TABLET

The names of the officials now adorning an immemorial bronze tablet in the rotunda of the city hall will be replaced by the names of Oakland men who made the supreme sacrifice during the war, if Mayor Davis's suggestions are carried out.

The mayor objects to the tablet, it contains the names of former Mayor Frank K. Mott and others who had a hand in starting the city hall. But they shouldn't be there, says the mayor.

"I never saw such a tablet before," said the mayor today. "Names of this kind are usually placed in the cornerstone. Let us place there instead the names of those who have made the supreme sacrifice."

The mayor suggested the change to members of the Oakland Chapter of the Red Cross, who asked him to start a movement for the erection of a suitable war memorial. As a fitting memorial he has proposed a building to be used as a permanent home for patriotic societies.

Names which would come off the tablet, if the mayor's proposal is carried out, includes, besides Mott's, those of these officials who held office when the tablet was placed in 1914: Commissioners Harry S. Anderson, William J. Baeus, John Forest, F. C. Turner, City Attorney John W. Stetson.

Also the names of architects and jury of award would go. These include John Galen Howard, W. S. Eames, E. W. P. Laird and J. J. Donovan.

Members of the Red Cross, interested in the erection of a war monument, will meet tonight to discuss the plans.

WOMEN TIPS ON FORMALIN WRECK ROOM

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—As a war measure the government ordered the addition of formaldehyde to all alcohol sold by druggists to prevent the alcohol being used as liquor by members of the armed forces.

Grace White, a Georgia Cook, two inmates of the detention hospital, became thirsty and consumed a pint of alcohol which they had obtained by content, with the following result:

They proceeded first to break and entirely wreck two bedrooms and a dozen windows and were hurried engaged in hacking the supports of a staircase to prevent their capture when the police, reinforcing the hospital attendants, arrived on the scene. It took four of them to overpower the women. They will be arraigned on charges of disorderly conduct before Police Judge J. J. Sullivan tomorrow.

U. C. AVIATOR IS HELD UP IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Dec. 9.—Finding himself facing the muzzle of two leveled guns, Harley Norris, cadet aviator at the School of Military Aeronautics, University of California, was forced to part with $342 in currency and silver at an early hour this morning.

Norris was proceeding down Channing way at Fulton street en route to his hotel at 12:15 o'clock after spending the evening with friends, when accosted by the two men. "Halt," called the duo as they flashed revolvers from their pockets. Norris complied and a search of his pockets netted the hold-up men thirteen $20 bills, five $10 bills, six $5 bills and $2 in silver.

This morning's robbery occurred within a few blocks of where Edwin T. Rader, employee of the Moore Shipyards, was robbed of $25 of his wages on Saturday morning while returning from his work, shortly after midnight. Rader was accosted by a lone highwayman at Fulton and Parker streets.

Norris is just convalescing from the results of a serious fall sustained at the aviation school several months ago, which forces him to walk with a cane. He has been residing at the Hotel Shattuck while recovering from his injuries.

He had been discharged from army service and part of the money which he was carrying with him for travel pay and allowances he had just received from the government.

ALLEGED BOOZE SMUGGLERS HELD

Said to be members of a gang engaged in smuggling liquor into Portland and Seattle, two men, James Lowe, colored, a porter, and George Vincent, are held at the central police station pending further investigation of the alleged band. They are booked on a bootlegging charge.

The men were arrested by Police-men Mcweeney and Forbes last night while endeavoring to enter the West Oakland yards. According to the police liquor had been "planted" under cars in the yards by the gang before these were sent north and delivered there. Other yard attaches "in" on the secret several other arrests are expected here and in the north, according to Captain of Inspectors James Draw, who is directing the investigation.

Mustache Looked Like Kaiser's! So His Hostess Snipped It Off

Details of a gay Liberty Day party, in which the men and women present indulged in a somewhat-turquoise contest on the lawn of the home of Mrs. A. H. Chirocco, 3317 Manila avenue, and which Mrs. Chirocco selected John E. Cole as a guest, with a pair of scissors, neatly amputated his mustache because, she held, it resembled the Kaiser's, came into the court records of Police Judge Morris Smith today, when Cole was on trial on a charge of battery, preferred by Mrs. Chirocco.

Mrs. Chirocco testified that at the party, under the stimulation of champagne, Cole declared England had won the war and Germany was a better country than America. He emphasized these sentiments, she says, by pounding on the chairs and table, and, as though these were a drum.

SEATTLE MAY POLICE SEARCH OUTSTRIP S. F. FOR 2 BANDITS

"The city of Seattle is forging forward in a marvelous way," says H. A. Laffer, who returned to Oakland today from a personal study of housing conditions in the northern city.

"Unless San Francisco and Oakland beat themselves," continued Laffer, Seattle will become the largest and the dominant city of the Pacific coast. Seattle already has a waterborne commerce, New York, when it got a lead over Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, pressed its advantage till now the city of the Pacific coast.

"Seattle is manifestly fighting hard for a similar dominance on the Pacific," Laffer said.

"Harbor Island and vicinity present a wonderful spectacle of industrial and commercial activity—unquestionably it is the busiest spot industrially west of the Mississippi. Industries are going up on every side. Seattle's new passenger elevated now building will greatly relieve the congestion in this section."

"Striking evidence of the growth of Seattle is the fact that more houses have been built there this year than in San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and Portland combined. This is not due, in my judgment, to cheaper building costs. Even with slightly cheaper lumber in Seattle, the cost of building is fully as high in the north as in Oakland. The cost of living in Seattle is higher than anywhere else on the coast."

The shipbuilding plants in the north are co-operating in an splendid way in the housing movement. One of the Seattle plants purchased three acres of ground and is building an entire group of apartment houses for its employees at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars.

"It is the universal judgment of business men of the north that lumber prices will not take any large sudden drop. I talked with many bankers, merchants, contractors, architects, real estate men and lumbermen, and all agreed that while prices may shade off slightly toward spring the bottom is not going to drop out."

Laffer secured full information as to the details of the Seattle industrial housing plan and a complete report, suggesting a plan of procedure for Oakland, will be made to the Oakland housing committee in the near future.

SECOND TRIAL OF MALCOLM MCGOWN BEGUN

The second trial of Malcolm McGown, for the killing of Rubeus J. Groden, January 29, this year, began today before Judge James G. Groden. The courtroom was crowded with members of the jury panel and interested spectators.

Judge-elect Lin S. Church appeared for the defendant, and Assistant Attorney General James M. Groden and Deputy District Attorney Ollie D. Hamlin represented the State. The court was opened by Attorney A. A. Montagne, who defended McGown. In the first trial, did not appear.

It is expected that a jury will not be secured before tomorrow, and that the entire week will be consumed in the trial.

McGown appeared in court with his wife and immediately assumed the attitude maintained throughout his first trial, sitting low in his chair with his hands upon his knees. Margaret McGown, his daughter, just turned 17, whose treatment by Groden was the cause of the shooting, was not in court, and will attend only while giving her testimony.

UNWRITTEN LAW, DEFENSE.

The shooting of Groden occurred on the morning of January 29, at about 7 o'clock. Shortly afterward McGown walked into the police station and surrendered. He was held in the city jail, but before the tragedy had been reported to his family, he had been confined in the county jail.

According to the questions put to the jury, the defense will be the unwritten law. This time it has been invoked in the defense of a father who took the law into his own hands to vindicate the honor of his daughter.

In addition to the unwritten law plea, technically considered, the defense will rely upon the addition of once in jeopardy and acquittal.

These points rest on the fact that following the disagreement of the jury in the former trial, McGown, according to affidavits on file, was released by the police. The defense will rely upon the fact that the jury in the former trial, McGown, according to affidavits on file, was released by the police. WILL ENFORCE VICE ORDINANCE

Prosecution of women accused of immoral conduct in Oakland will be continued hereafter under the Federal laws when they are arrested by the provost guard of neutrality bureau, according to plans perfected by Captain Thorwald of the police department today.

The federal law which provides a maximum of one year's imprisonment or $1000 fine for violation of the act, which confines evidence deemed necessary to convict to very narrow limits. The federal law provides that for the protection of soldiers and sailors any woman found to be inimical to the morals of the armed forces, or any person directing any person to such conduct, can be held guilty of violation of the act, which is a war measure.

Harry Cole, a laborer, was held for federal authorities today on a charge of violating the act. He was arrested last night after purchasing from the saloon conducted by Charney Brothers at Eighth street and Broadway, a bottle of whiskey for a member of the army provost guard. He is in the city prison awaiting action.

Boilemakers Return to Work Strike at the Shipyards Is Ended

Work was resumed this morning by the striking boilermakers at the Alameda and Bethlehem Shipyards, and the big war is again, for the first time in two weeks, working at capacity. The return of the men to their jobs follows a meeting of the Boilemakers Union held yesterday afternoon at which a vote to end the strike was carried by a large majority. The meeting was protracted and was at times, it is said, marked by acrimonious discussion of the strike question.

Il. C. Capwell, representing the business interests of Oakland, addressed the men and assured them of the intent of the shipyard management to make the most of the men's return to work followed his remarks and was influenced largely by the fact that the men had agreed to bring about a settlement of the difficulty.

Capwell stopped into the breach as made by the request of the state adjustment committee of the Boilemakers Union, about a week ago, and after holding several conferences with the War Labor Board, and the Pacific Coast, in whose hands the settlement of the dispute had been left by the Bethlehem people, was able on Saturday to bring before the strike committee definite assurance of an adjustment once the men returned to work. The vote to do so followed on Sunday.

DEPT. OF WORKS

The men went to work this week ago today, alleging discrimination against the night shifts in the matter of a full time week, and demanding the recognition of year-around working week, better sanitary conditions, to a pay hour on company time. The last claim demand is a condition of the project. The men were placed in effect at the Bethlehem plant a week ago last Friday.

During the two weeks period of the strike the loss in wages to the strike plant was $150,000. In addition to this, idleness was enforced on about 1,000 shipyard laborers at the plant with a loss in wages of approximately $45,000, or a total monetary loss to the workers and the community of approximately $200,000. Strike benefits for the two weeks total about $24,000, drawn from the members of the local Boilemakers Union working at plants other than the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem people.

With the return to work of the Boilemakers the threat of expulsion made by the Iron Trades Council of the San Francisco Bay district, with which the union is or was affiliated, becomes null and void. Immediately following the mandate of the Iron Trades Council, however, the Boilemakers voted to withdraw from that organization. That vote is still in effect and is to be followed, it is stated, by affiliation with the Metal Trades Council of Alameda and Contra Costa counties, now in its formative period.

TO DEFER CANVASS

A vote to strike on December 9 had been taken and the result was announced as being favorable to the strike. The postponement of strike action will, it is said, be the result of the strike votes of all of the Pacific coast metal crafts unions, as decided for canvassing at Portland, Oregon, today. The demand of the men for a 44-hour week and a wage of $1 per hour for mechanics of the basic trades.

C. C. Dooslaugh, assistant secretary of the local Boilemakers' Union, who returned Saturday night from Washington, where he had since November 1, been in conference with the Wage Adjustment Board of the War Labor Board and the Metal Crafts department of the American Federation of Labor, believes the probability of a strike in protest of the Macy award are now negligible.

PROTESTS PIECE WORK

Dooslaugh's trip was taken primarily for the purpose of representing the local union boilermakers in the protest of the piece work schedule of the Alameda and Bethlehem Shipyards. The demand of the men for a 44-hour week and a wage of $1 per hour for mechanics of the basic trades.

RED CROSS FOLK NOT NEEDED THERE

Explanation of the "cancellation of sailing orders for 1000 Red Cross men Red Cross workers to Europe for the Pacific division was made in a telegram received by the Red Cross War Relief Administration headquarters in San Francisco today. Men of the division were already at embarkation points.

It is said that the additional personnel in Europe was made unnecessary by the fact that following the signing of the armistice, so many, whose activities had previously been closely associated with the prosecution of hostilities, were released for Red Cross service. The Red Cross is to send no more workers over seas until applications are made out to an epidemic in Europe.

In an effort to relieve any possible embarrassment to persons who had been all their plans for sailing, the Red Cross has arranged that each shall receive an official acknowledgment of their service and a statement why it was not available.

Miss Mary Keyes, daughter of C. E. Keyes, principal of the Oakland High School, is perhaps the only Oakland girl effected by this order. Miss Keyes is now in Europe, where she was awaiting orders to embark on a ship which left a week ago. Her family received a telegram from her yesterday stating that she was not sailing. Miss Keyes was en route to Europe in the reconstruction service.

Children's Army to Grow Wheat Needed

The need of speeding up food production by a juvenile garden army, being mobilized is the purpose of an appeal to country garden directors, just issued by the United States War Reliefs Administration, from the State Council of Defense office.

For the outlook for this state, Director Stearns says:

"We have got California's quota at a division of 150,000 garden soldiers in the United States School Garden Army. Surely with the strength of our organization we can build out our share of the needed 100,000,000 bushel wheat reserve. We need fundamental educational value—moral, mental and physical, and we absorb it in the garden. And the children will have: This 100,000,000 bushel crop reserve of wheat is the job of the educational system."

For a number of years the members of Laurentian Institute have given assistance to the Sisters of St. Joseph in their care for the little deaf children of St. Joseph's Home. It is expected that the efforts of this year will meet the success that has characterized their efforts of former years.

Those actively engaged in making the card party and dance of Tuesday evening the success it deserves to be include the following: Miss Edna Armstrong, Pearl Courtney, Ursula Devay, Rose Considine, Mary Clarke, Katherine Quirk, Mae Cosgrave, Eva Weber, Mrs. F. W. J. Hennessey.

CALL A PHYSICIAN—GO TO BED—STAY QUIET—DON'T WORRY

There is no Occasion for Panic—Influenza Itself Has a Very Low Percentage of Fatalities, Not Over One Death Out of Every Four Hundred Cases.

Spanish Influenza, which appeared in Spain in May, has all the appearance of grip or influenza, but it has swept over the world in numerous epidemics as far back as history runs. Hippocrates, in 400 B.C., described it as a cold, which is regarded by many to have been influenza. Every century has had its outbreaks, including the year 1831, when this country has had five epidemics, the last in 1889-90.

THE SYMPTOMS.

Grip, or influenza, as it is now called, spreads the disease to other parts of the body by aching, feverishness and sometimes nausea and dizziness, and a general feeling of weakness. The temperature is from 100 to 104, and the fever usually lasts from three to five days. The germ which causes the disease enters the body through the mucous membrane, or lining of their passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes. The germ enters the body through the mucous membrane, or lining of their passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes. The germ enters the body through the mucous membrane, or lining of their passages—nose, throat and bronchial tubes.

THE TREATMENT.

Go to bed at the first symptoms, not only for your own sake, but to avoid spreading the disease to other parts of the body. Eat plenty of nourishing food, remain perfectly quiet and don't worry. Quinine, Aspirin, and Quinine Powder, etc., may be administered by the physician's directions to relieve the fever for influenza—the disease must run its course, but nature herself will take care of the attack if only you rest and up your strength. The chief danger lies in the complications which may arise. Influenza is a very serious disease, but there is danger of

"FLU NERVES" BLAMED FOR CRIME WAVE

For the four years of war attaches of the courts, both police and superior have commented on the infrequency of the old standbys—murders, suicides, divorces, robberies and other crimes. And now almost coincident with the armistice, there comes a host of all these. But it is not anything that has to do with the war or its cessation, but to the Spanish flu.

At least so says Dr. Ernest R. Hoag, eminent psychologist and criminologist, now holding the chair of criminology at the University of California.

Dr. Hoag scouts any theory of other psychologists and social students that the crime wave is the aftermath of the war and that the murders, suicides, robberies, domestic troubles and strange disappearances of both men and women are in some remote way linked with the great struggle recently ended in Europe.

"If there is any particular reason for the sudden breaking out of crime, it is influenza more than any other disease," says Dr. H. C. Hoag. "Influenza causes nervous disorders, affecting different persons differently. In my own observations, which have been of the nature of a study, I have seen the results of the disease upon people with whom I have come in contact."

"People who commit crimes are in a highly aggravated condition of nervous disorder, and are recovering from influenza are in a weakened condition, with their nerve centers almost entirely shattered by the effects of the illness; it is undoubtedly while they are in this condition that persons, who have been filling the police calendars with their actions have lost control of themselves."

Cal and Herbie on the Job At Baseball Headquarters Getting Ready For Season

Oakland Prexy Is Optimistic and Predicts a Successful Year in 1919

by Eddie Murphy

It looked like the real old winter days yesterday afternoon at the Oakland Coast League ball park. The diamond where the shipyard teams have been pastiming for the past few months was one big patch of mud, and unless one made a careful investigation he would not suspect that there was a sonl to be found on the premises. But a necessary errand brought us to the little office at the ball park, and who should be found there but J. C. Ewing, president of the Oaks, and Secretary Herbert McEvlin.

The two club officers were enjoying the real winter sports of a baseball man, or at least they appeared to be doing so. The little stove had a fine big fire blazing away in it, and gave plenty of warmth to Cal and Herbert, who did not seem to have a worry in the world. Both were full of smiles and began talking of the 1919 season. There will be no dull year for baseball if Cal and Herbert have their way.

Cal Ewing said that all the talk about poor attendances and poor salaries for the players is uncalled for, as he looks for baseball on the coast to enjoy one of its most prosperous years. Secretary McFarlin felt that the players, and not the club, usually calls the right tune. He hopes that he has, as everybody wants the grand old game back where it belongs, at the head of all other sports.

OFFICIALS PREPARING.
The main reason for Ewing and McFarlin being at the ball park was to make a general clean up of old papers and contracts which have gathered in the little office since it was built. The

Connie Mack Put Good One Over on
'Pop' Adrian Anson

There may have been better catchers than Connie Mack, but none any foxier. Connie was with the Pirates in 1893 when he played a little trick on Cap Anson that won a ball game for Pittsburg.

Ad Gumbert was 'pitching for the Pirates and got himself into a hole. Chicago filled the bases in a hurry before two were out. The Cap came to bat.

Gumbert floated two across the plate and Cap didn't move. Suddenly Capde stepped aside after tossing the ball back to Gumbert. He took off his mask and wiped his brow. Then he threw his glove on the ground and started taking off his chest protector.

Anson was amazed. He looked around and glanced with wide-open eyes at Mack. "What's the matter, Connie," he inquired, "ain't I going to get my crack at the ball?"

As he spoke Mack signalled to Gumbert and the latter whipped a fast one across.

"Strike," yelled the umpire.

Black had reached out his chest protector and blocked the ball. Then he grabbed it up as it rolled away, touched the plate, forcing the runner from third and threw to first, doubling Anson. The Cap was so surprised he didn't move out of his tracks. A catcher

Naval Reserves Run Into More Hard Luck

The Naval Reserve football team of San Pedro ran into another chapter of news to tell the boys at home what they think of our climate, when yesterday afternoon the rain came down so heavy that it was impossible to play their game with the Olympic club. The game was billed to be played at Ewing field, but when the players arrived at the park it looked more like a young sea than a baseball field. The trip to this section by the Naval Reserves was anything but a financial success and failed to give the players the practice which they looked for, before their big game with the Submarine Base team, next Saturday.

DEATH SOLVES MYSTERY OF 3 ALAMEDA BOYS

JOHN FRAGA, one of the three Alameda boys drowned in the bay. His body was recovered in the boat in which the three sailed for a day's pleasure, but his companions have not been found.

Death and not adventure was responsible for the disappearance of John Fraga, Edward French and Marcell Ferro, the three Alameda youths who set out in a skiff from Alameda the day before Thanksgiving. The body of the Fraga boy was found in the still floating skiff off the Portrero on the San Francisco side of the bay yesterday. No trace has yet been found of the bodies of French and Ferro, but they are believed to have been drowned while attempting to reach shore from their water-logged boat. The search for their bodies has been renewed with the recovery of the body of one of the trio.

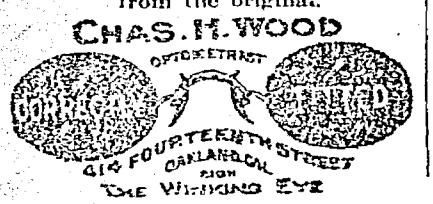

The skiff, with its sail still set, was noticed pounding on the rocks off the Portrero shore by Emilie and William Casello of San Francisco. The boys investigated and found that the boat was filled with water, with Fraga's body lying in the water. The body was minus coat, vest, hat and shoes, as though Fraga had prepared to make a final effort for his life by swimming ashore. His foot appeared to be caught in the inside hull railing. Whether his foot caught and held him helpless till he died from exposure or drowning, or whether he was too far gone from exposure to make the attempt at swimming after preparing for a final effort will never be known.

Stormy weather swept over the bay shortly after the boats started on their sail. The weather was extremely cold for this section of California and the boys had only ordinary clothing.

When the boys failed to return home or send word of their whereabouts, Chief of Police Walter O. Jacoby of Alameda made a search of the bay in a launch offered by the Alaska Packers' Association.

Others also searched. It was thought likely that the boys planned to run away and there was a strong hope that word from them would be received by the relatives. The finding of the Fraga boy's body gave the first direct clew of another boy's tragedy.

The body of the boy was removed to the San Francisco morgue, where it was identified yesterday afternoon by the parents. The parents of Fraga, French and Ferro all went to the morgue for the purpose of identifying the body. An autopsy is to be performed in an effort to secure definite information as to the exact cause of death. The body will later be brought to Alameda for burial.

All three boys were about 16 years of age. Fraga lived at 1090 Yer-sallies avenue. French lived at 1305 Mount street and Ferro at 1215 Pacific avenue. Ferro, though under the draft age, registered on September 12. His registration was cancelled at request of his parents.

POLICE PROBE RECORDS OF 2 UNDER ARREST

The Alameda police are busy today trailing the past of Robert Black, alias James Hennessy, and Scott Allen, two shipyard workers, captured at the High-street bridge Saturday night with a suitcase full of stolen plunder, which has been identified as coming from the home of C. C. Adams, 3244 Fernside boulevard.

So far the police have learned that Black, who claims that Black, and not Hennessy, is his true name, formerly lived at 3210 Sterling avenue, at the home of Mrs. Jacob Shaefer, widow of Jacob Shaefer, a billiard champion. Under the name of Ainsley, Black married Miss Anna Shaefer at Sacramento, but the marriage was annulled, and Miss Shaefer was given back her maiden name. She says that she lived with Black but two days. She is a member of the Columbia Theater chorus in Oakland. A peculiar fact in the case which has not been entirely cleared up as yet is that Black was staying at the Shaefer home until a few days ago, when he left the Shaefer home and went to the Rialto hotel, in San Francisco.

GIRL MAKES STATEMENT.
He is 23 years of age. Miss Shaefer has made some statements to the police which are now being followed up to see if Black has a criminal record. Black is a sister of Jacob Shaefer Jr., also an expert billiard player, who lives in this city and is connected with Eddie Greaney's place in San Francisco.

Scott Allen, Black's alleged accomplice, is 25 years old, married, and gives his address at 1306 Fillmore street, San Francisco. When search of Allen's pockets yielded a bank book of his wife's, showing a $4-balance.

Had Black and Allen made directly for the High-street bridge after robbing the Adams home, as charged, they might have got across the bridge before the police threw a guard around the crossing, but they tarried awhile and are suspected of having been in the Adams home on Encinal avenue.

The Emmons family were home, and Emmons, aroused by the noise made by the burglars in the adjoining room, demanded to know who was in the house and what was wanted. The men fled.

FEMINE APPAREL CLEW.
Police Officers Bert Conant, Andrew Peterson and A. Olson caught Black and Allen at the bridge. When asked about the feminine apparel in the suitcase, Black said the things belong to his wife. Shaking the suitcase, the police were rewarded with the sound of jingling silverware and took the two men to police headquarters.

From the Adams home was taken a large supply of knives, forks, spoons and other table silver, some jewelry, a camera, bric-a-brac and a quantity of fine lingerie. No one was at home when the house was ransacked and the burglars searched and looted throughout the house.

Fatally Injured by Auto That Sped Away

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Peter Marcucci, prominent commission man from the firm of Marcucci & Laurencini, Jackson and Battery streets, was struck down by an unknown automobile as he was crossing Jackson street to his place of business at 5 o'clock this morning and taken to the Harbor Emergency hospital, where he is expected to die. He received a fractured skull, dislocation of the hip, three ribs were broken and severe lacerations and contusions.

The driver of the car sped away without adding Marcucci. As the car bore neither head nor tail light, according to witnesses, the identity of the driver will be difficult to ascertain. Marcucci resides at 2471 Lombard street and is well known to Eastbay commission merchants.

WATCHDOG REX FRIEND OF ALL AND BURGLARS

"Rex," watchdog, is in disgrace.

"Rex" is a bulldog of formidable appearance and dimensions, but with a heart that is child-like and bland. He is now considerably chastened as the result of recent occurrences. He is the property of Harry E. Cornell, manager of the Orpheum, and as such has been the pet of the downtown section. The result has been that everybody, from the copper on the beat to the newsboy on the corner, knows him; and Rex is used to being petted by all.

Saturday night, according to the police, no one was home at the Cornell house, 6532 Dover street, but Rex, the watchdog, Burglars, who evidently knew Rex on the outside, entered. They petted Rex and ransacked the place—and before leaving, raided the Cornell ice box and fixed Rex a nice feed of cold chicken. They stole a number of smaller articles.

WEBSTER BRIDGE GUARDS NEEDED

The sheriff's office was appealed to today by City Manager C. E. Hewes and Police Chief Walter O. Jacoby of Alameda for extra guards on the Webster street bridge during the period of construction to protect Alamedans and Oaklanders who cross the bridge after dark. This action was taken following the beating and robbing of John Leach of 1320 Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, who was set upon by two thugs at 8 o'clock Saturday night as he was crossing the bridge after leaving a street car at the Alameda end of the bridge on his way to Oakland.

Leach was robbed of his watch and $30 in cash, besides being severely beaten as he screamed for help. Apparently no one heard his cry for help, probably because of the wind and storm.

The bridge is closed to all forms of vehicular traffic, but is open for pedestrians. To travel via street car it is necessary to walk across the bridge to waiting cars at either end. The false work and dismantled condition of the bridge make favorable opportunity for footpads to work. The bridge is owned by the county. Probably both Oakland and Alameda will make special efforts to police the bridge approaches, but the bridge itself will be left in the hands of Sheriff Frank Barnett.

RAINFALL HERE IS 1.89 INCHES

Clear skies and sunshine this morning heralded the end of the storm which struck the bay region Friday and continued with but little interruption between rain squalls all day and night. One of the sharpest squalls of the winter occurred at midnight, but was soon over and the sun appeared, cleared away and the stars appeared. Rainfall in Oakland in the last 36 hours was .87 of an inch and for the entire storm period 1.89 inches.

Oakland Police to Search for Lost Man

The police of Oakland have been asked to assist in a search for William Hazen Alward, 419 Fulton street, San Francisco, who went to Oakland on a business trip December 3, and then disappeared, according to his son, William Alward. The father is described as five feet ten, 170 pounds, 50 years of age. He is a retired fireman of the local department.

RELEASE OF U. C. UNITS IS HELD UP

Demobilization of the members of the student army training corps at the University of California may be held up indefinitely as the result of a contemplated quarantine which may be levied by military authorities following the spread of the influenza epidemic on the campus.

As the result of the new cases of influenza the first contingent of S. A. T. C. men who were to have been released from army service today have been denied their discharge papers. A conference of military and university authorities is being held today at which a decision will be reached concerning the proposed quarantine.

A similar quarantine as to that now contemplated was effected during the early part of the influenza epidemic and was lifted scarcely a month ago following the apparent subsiding of the malady. As a result of the increased number of cases on the campus barracks have again been transformed into hospitals under the direction of the Berkeley chapter of the Red Cross, with appeals for nurses going forth from that organization.

The men stationed at the various military posts around the bay have been instructed to remain at the camps, liberty to visit the cities being refused until the influenza flu-rage has subsided.

(Sign your name and give phone number)

"We are orphans," she wrote to the Blue Bird.

There is a world of misery in these three words. Lonesomeness all through the year, with nothing to look forward to even at Christmas time, unless the Good Fellows help. This letter received today tells its own tragic story:

"Dear Good Fellows: I am dropping you this few lines wishing you a Merry Christmas, dear good fellows. I am a little orphan and 2 little brothers, we lost our dear mother and father with the influenza and my dear aunt took us; she is poor also, and has 5 children herself, and dear good fellow you remember us with something nice to eat and we need most of all close for school. I am 8 years and my brothers are 7 and 5. dear good fellows please don't forget for we have no father either mother, wish you all a happy Christmas and a happy new year. I remain your loving little friend."

The "dear aunt" who took these three little children into her home, is having a hard time to keep her own and her sister's children clothed and fed, and Christmas will be a sorry day without help. "Dear Aunt" has a girl 9, and four boys of 10, 4 and 2 years, and "James, who is only three months."
